

The following are the things I will do to prepare for interviews:

- Arrive 15 minutes every time.
- Come with some questions to ask at the end of the interview.
- Practice my elevator pitch.
- Learn to relax a little more.

Whiteboard experience:

Jaron, Aaron, Tim and I worked on whiteboards. We spent a good two hours working on them. I personally dislike doing whiteboard challenges. I feel like it doesn't really show my ability as a developer as my brain starts to shut down and not think through what I'm trying to do. It didn't help that I also had a headache as well. Overall, it was ok to talk through these problems but I did not enjoy it.

Questions for Interview

- Tell me about the onboarding experience at your company?
- How closely will I be working with the leadership of the company?
- What growth is possible in this position and company?
- What time constraints will there be outside of normal business hours?
- Who are some of the clients we will be working with?
